

Demos Nominate Frankfort Man For Circuit Judge

A Frankfort resident, August Santoro, assessor, village attorney and active in civic affairs in that community, has been nominated by the Democrats of Will, Kankakee and Iroquois counties as a candidate for circuit judge of the 12th judicial circuit. He will oppose Robert E. Higgins, a Joliet attorney, who was the unanimous choice of the Republicans at a convention held last weekend at Kankakee.

The Will County Democrats held a caucus last week but made no choice of a nominee to succeed the late Judge James V. Bartley, whose death has created a vacancy on the circuit bench. At the convention made up of delegates from the three counties, however, held Monday night at Holiday Inn, Joliet, Santoro was unanimously chosen.

Santoro, 30 years old, who resides at Frankfort with his wife, the former Arlene Treptow, and two sons, John, 3, and Wayne, 1-year-old, has been practicing law there since he was admitted to the bar six years ago upon his graduation from the John Marshall Law School at Chicago with bachelor and master degrees. Previously he had graduated from Blackburn College, Carlinville, with a bachelor of arts degree.

For several years he was a law partner of State's Attorney George E. Sangmeister, but he now maintains his own law office. Last year he was elected assessor of Frankfort Township on the People's Ticket and has been attorney for the Village of Frankfort since the beginning of the new administration headed by Mayor Glenn Warning.

Santoro has been the manager of a boys' baseball team at Frankfort for the past four years; is a member of the Frankfort Volunteer Fire Department; first vice president of the Frankfort Lions club; a director of Family Services Agency of Will County, and a member of Illinois, Will County, and American Trial Lawyers

Bar Associations.

Robert Higgins, who has been practicing law at Joliet for the past 35 years, is a former assistant state's attorney. He was a candidate for an associate circuit judge in Will county only on the Republican ticket two years ago when he was defeated in the Democratic landslide. Angelo Pistilli was the successful Democratic candidate on the occasion.

Franciscan Sisters Observe Centennial

Mrs. Ruth Carroll, a former resident of Mokena, now moderator on "Your Dollar's Worth," CBS TV, 1:00 p.m. Saturdays, narrated the Centennial pageant of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart last Saturday at 3 p.m. and again on Tuesday in the Sacred Heart High School auditorium east of Mokena.

A 10-o'clock centennial mass, celebrated by the new bishop, the Most Rev. Romeo Blanchette, at St. Raymond Cathedral, Joliet, opened the Franciscan celebration.

Box lunches were served on the Motherhouse grounds at Mokena, followed by the program in the high school. Arthur W. Barron, Jr. presided as the master of ceremonies.

After Reverend Mother Timothy Marie's welcome address, the Siebert Sisters Trio from Schererville, Ind., sang "Hail Mary," "The Isle of Capri," and "History of the Community" set to music of "The Holy City."

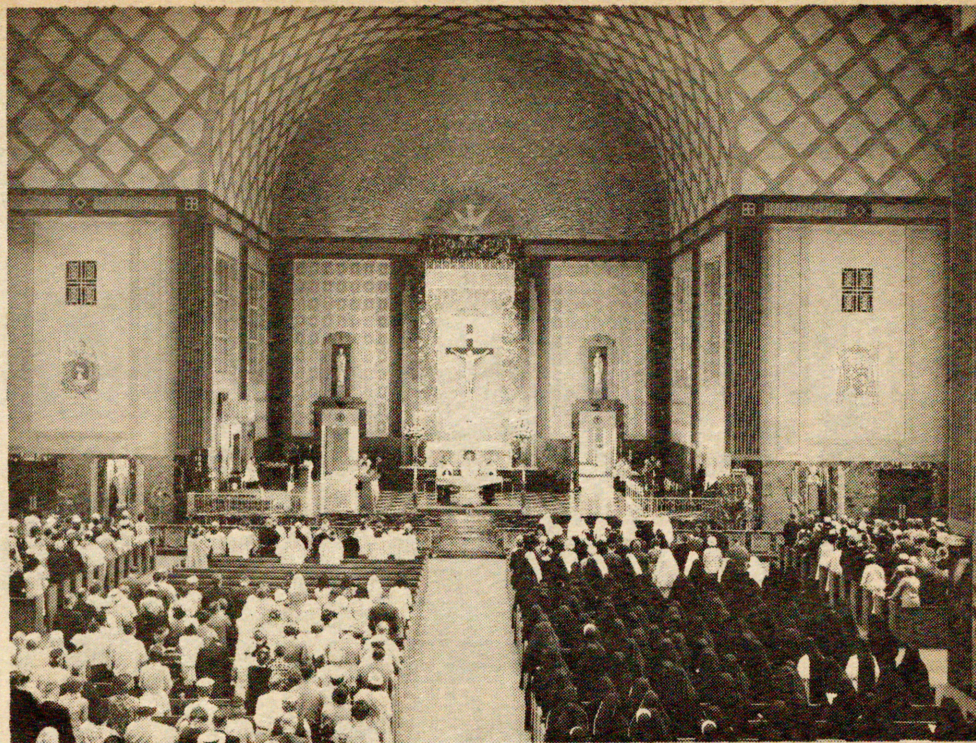

A re-enactment of the

community's history entitled "The Sound of Franciscans," adapted from "The Sound of Music," and narrated by Mrs. Ruth Carroll, completed the program.

Members of the large cast included students of Sacred Heart High School, aspirants, senior novices and many professed Sisters. This musical pageant will be presented again on Saturday, Sept. 17 at St. Joseph School auditorium in Peru, Ill., when the Peoria diocese has its centennial celebration of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart.

CATHEDRAL OF ST. RAYMOND, Joliet, was the scene of the mass celebrating the 100th anniversary of the founding of the Franciscan Sisters of the Sacred Heart at Seelback, Germany. The motherhouse is in St. Francis Woods, Mokena. Approximately 1,000 persons attended the service conducted by the newly named bishop of Joliet, the Most. Rev. Romeo Blanchette, that included investiture of religious habits for 10 postulants; profession of first vows by none novices and perpetual vows for three Sisters.

Teacher Shortage Gives School Heads Problems

A want ad in today's paper sums up a situation in the educational field that is not just local but also applies to the state as a whole. The advertisement is for a teacher for the second grade in the Mokena public school system.

Supt. James Ennis, head of the Mokena public schools, said neighboring school districts are in need. Supt. LeRoy Olson, of Frankfort, needs a math teacher to complete his staff and a fourth grade teacher is needed at Arbury Hills. Supt. A. Hunter Chapman, of Lincoln - Way High School needs a math teacher.

Supt. Arnold Tylor, of New Lenox, who had been in need of a teacher, reports his staff is complete now but it was reported that Manhattan and Homer Consolidates schools lack teachers.

County Superintendent Boyd R. Bucher reported last week there were 40 teaching positions open in the county as a whole.

State School Supt. Ray Page announced last week there is a critical shortage of teachers in Illinois but added that it was a national problem too. Steadily increasing enrollments in the country as a whole has brought on a tremendous demand for teachers.

"I should like to make a personal appeal," Page said in a recent news dispatch out of Springfield, "to all certified teachers who are not now teaching, retired teachers and college graduates to consider teaching positions this fall. We need over 4,000 new teachers in all fields in Illinois."

The area school heads strongly endorse Page's appeal. There are undoubtedly many persons in the vicinity who are qualified to teach, they pointed out. Persons with college degrees, now staying at home could qualify for provisional certificates, Supt. Ennis said, and become teachers. A year of experience would enable many of them to become good teachers, he believes.

There are women who quit teaching years ago to raise families, it was pointed out, and now with this task accomplished they are still at home. School administrators hope that many of these will respond to the need for teachers and become active in the program again.

There are, of course, a large number of women with children who are teaching and if it were not for them the number of vacancies on faculties would be materially greater, it was said.

Add Perils Of Cleaning Gutters-Wasps

On Saturday morning, Aug. 13, as Walter Liptak of 14231 Union Ave., Orland Park, was on his roof cleaning gutters, he was stung on the eye-lid by an angry wasp.

Mrs. Liptak immediately called the Orland Park Fire Dept. and an ambulance rushed him to the office of Dr. Julius Ramonas at 14922 West St.

After treatment, Mr. Liptak returned home with the suggestion of applying cold packs to the injured eye. He was able to resume his normal activities the next day.

gree who has had some thought of teaching is urged by the school heads in their communities to talk with them. If they do not want to work full time, it was said, there is a great need for substitutes in most districts. Superintendents would like to have people they can call on in case the regular teachers become ill or something occurs which compels them to take a leave or resign.

Supt. Chapman said last Thursday that the prospect he had for the vacancy at Lincoln - Way had notified him of making other plans and was not available.

Administrators agree that the situation is serious but hope their appeals will meet with a response from the public.

Urges Communities Look To Future Water Supply

A resolution declaring its intention of participating in a regional water agency when it is ultimately formed, providing certain provisions are met, was adopted by the Frankfort village board at its regular meeting this week.

Members of the Frankfort board are believed to be the first to take formal action in a move which they believe will insure the future water supply of the area.

Supt. George Travers of the Commonwealth Edison Co., who also is chairman of the Lower DesPlaines Valley Water Resources Committee, appeared before the Frankfort board Monday night. The water survey committee has a report by engineers hired to determine the water resources of the region which shows that between 33 and 35 million gallons of water are available daily in area now but that by 1975 the amount needed will be 45 million gallons and by 1990 the amount required will be 69 million gallons of water daily.

Travers pointed out that the report shows Frankfort, Orland Park and Tinley Park are dependent upon a shallow aquifer for the water that supplies their wells, and are better off than most of the communities. They may hit it 125 to 160 feet down but the aquifer itself is only 15 to 25 feet thick, and benefits from rain and surface water. The deep aquifers are being drained without appreciable replacement, the report shows, and many of the deep wells in the Joliet area are dropping at a rate of approximately 30 feet a year.

The DesPlaines River and the Sanitary Ship Canal are poison streams, it was pointed out, and the water cannot be purified sufficiently to become potable. The water of Hickory Creek, Long Creek and the other creeks in this area would not supply more than 8-million gallons a day, and whether Lake Michigan water will become available to inland communities will depend on the outcome of litigation brought by adjoining states and Canada, it was explained.

The Kankakee River is the best source for water for the populace of the area, the report states. It has a flow of some 400-million gallons of water a day, Travers said, and can be easily purified. The water authority to make first use of the Kankakee would have its right to the water protected so that later users could not do anything to jeopardize the supply of the first comers.

Wilmington expects to adopt a resolution similar to that adopted by the Frankfort board, and so does the Elwood village council in the immediate future and it is expected that other communities also will act. Lemont is also slated to join with the other valley towns in supporting the water agency plan.

The Water Resources group would like to have a regional government agency, organized under state law, to implement, finance and administer such water source to serve the cities, villages and industries in the Lower DesPlaines Valley region.

Travers said the committee feels that the $2,000 left in the resources committee treasury is sufficient to finance the setting up of a regional water agency. The resolution of intent, such as adopted by Frankfort, is subject to the following provisions:

- 1.-That its representation in the agency is satisfactory to the ten Village board;
- 2.-That the agency is free to pursue all alternate long range water sources, including those suggested in the Stanley Engineering Report of May 8, 1964; and,
- 3.-That the financial obligation necessary to establish such an agency is shared with other cities and villages in the area and by the Lower DesPlaines Valley Resources Committee, on an equitable basis to be determined at the time the agency is created."

CONTINUE GOLF,
BOWLING
The summer recreation program at Sandburg High School ended Aug. 5. Athletic Director Joe Devine said, however, that while the participation of the school has ended, the bowling and golf are extended until Labor Day. Frank Chicocca, of the Palos Bowl, and Ralph Krueger, of the Palos Country Club, will continue to grant recreation members to bowl and play golf at the fees in force thru the summer. The greensfee was a dollar and bowlers paid a dollar for three lines, plus an arrangement for shoes.

Court Of Appeals Remands Howard Quinn Jail Sentence

(CNS) In an unanimous three-judge opinion, the U.S. Court of Appeals last week reversed and remanded the three-year jail sentence given Howard B. Quinn, 45, of 8930 South Leavitt, former head and principal owner of the closed Beverly Savings and Loan association 8001 S. Western ave. The sentence was imposed Jan. 26, 1965, by U.S. District Judge Hubert L. Will.

Quinn was found guilty by a jury on all four counts of an indictment, charging he (1) caused, and (2) participated in the proceeds of each of two misapplications of association funds which were federally insured: (A) on April 3, 1963, payment of $553,166 for four years' advance rent on the bank building which he owned; and (B) On July 8, 1963, having a $95,000 association check issued to Lakewood Farms in exchange for a $95,000 check drawn on Industry Capital corp., "knowing its account did not have sufficient funds to cover it."

The second check was for a payment on the $1,750,000 mortgage on a farm at Wauconda owned by Quinn, held by the former Hillside Savings and Loan.

improperly denied a motion for two separate trials for Quinn, one on each transaction.

"On this record it is not open to question but that the offenses . . . were separate and distinct, and not connected as part of a common scheme.

"There has been filed a 50-page transcript of the proceedings on defendant's motion for a severance. A reading leaves no doubt that the case was highly confusing, both from the legal and evidentiary standpoints. The able trial judge had difficulty in grasping the government's position, and government counsel in numerous respects had difficulty in explaining it.

"That Quinn was in a financial quagmire was abundantly shown. His situation was emphasized by the government's introduction of a mass of testimony and exhibits, including NSF checks."

The appeals court opinion, written by Judge J. Earl Major and concurred in by Judges Elmer J. Schnackenberg and F. Ryan Duffy, held that while the counts charging Quinn "caused" the misapplications as a director for his personal benefit, were proper, the two alleging his receipt of proceeds were defective in failing to state the transactions were fraudulent.

"This conclusion requires a reversal of that portion of the judgment based on such counts, and, under the circumstances, we think requires a reversal of the judgment in its entirety," said the opinion.

"Lest there be doubt on this score", the opinion went on to hold that Judge Will

In admitting the checks, Judge Will refused to limit their application to particular counts, saying: "You mean checks in July can't relate to transactions in March and April or vice versa? I cannot tell the jury that they should be idiots. No, I don't see any problem. They are admitted in evidence."

He indicated he would give a general instruction that the checks should apply only to counts they involve, but never did, the opinion pointed out, adding: "Even if given, we think with the mass of testimony the government presented it would have been next to impossible for the jury to have differentiated between the proof as it pertained to the different counts."

Numerous civil suits have been filed against Quinn and others by the Federal Deposit Insurance corp., which paid off depositors, and last month Judge Richard B. Austin held four former directors of Beverly liable personally on one.

Will Co. Aux. Police Add Fourth Squad Car

The Will County Auxiliary Police took another step forward recently with the purchase of their fourth squad car. The car is to be based in Peotone and will be used mainly in cooperation with another car based in Crete, for added protection in the eastern end of the county. The other two Auxiliary cars are based in Joliet and Wilmington.

Funds for these cars come from donations and appropriations from organizations and individuals, for services rendered or in appreciation of the work being done by the organization. In addition to these, the second annual ball, sponsored by the Auxiliary will be held this year on Saturday, Sept. 17, at Pioneer Garden Ballroom, 515 Richards St., Joliet. Tickets for this event are $1 and are available from Auxiliary members.

Members of the Auxiliary have the same authority held by the regular members of the sheriff's staff and take their orders from the sheriff or the man in his office who is assigned to work with the Auxiliary. Members receive no pay whatsoever for their time and effort.

In emphasizing that they are volunteers, Lt. John Shelly, liaison officer for the sheriff, said a member can be automatically expelled from the Auxiliary for accepting any type of gratuity. Persons wishing to show their appreciation for the work done by these individuals must deal directly with the organization and not with individuals.

The Auxiliary, which has the sanction and approval of the County Board of Supervisors, gives the sheriff a force of over 60 men and four vehicles that he can call on in case of an emergency. In addition, the group handles parking and security at many events including the Will County Fair, 6-Meter Club annual picnic at Frankfort, activities at Lincolnway High School, the New Lenox Horse Show, and the Thresherman's Reunion, to name a few. Members also spend much of their free time riding with the staff deputy sheriffs in an effort to bolster the regular county force.

Not just any individual can become an auxiliary police officer. The by-laws for membership require that a man must have lived in the county for at least one year before he can be considered. Further, the by-laws require the sheriff and the sheriff's committee of the county board to give their approval to all memberships. Acceptance of a member depends on the individual's past record and conduct.

The organization is non-political, non-sectarian, and race, religion or creed are not considered. Membership is permanent and cannot be revoked because of political beliefs.

Once a month training sessions are held in Joliet. The men report for these sessions in full uniform. Experts in various fields address them including those working closely in investigation dealing with narcotics, juvenile delinquency, traffic, murder, burglaries, robberies, illegal entry into the country by aliens and the state game warden. Techniques of handling firearms have also been demonstrated.

The Auxiliary was first formed in Frankfort to help relieve the county police force of some of its work load and to give all parts of the county more adequate police protection. The Auxiliary was made a county wide association by Sheriff Joseph R. Trizna on October 20, 1963, with the sanction of the County Board.

Thanks to these men, the outlying areas of the county now have more and better protection than ever before. The role of the auxiliary officer is growing in scope and in importance.

Mokena School Sets Date For Election

A referendum has been set by the Mokena Grade School board for Sept. 10, at which the qualified voters of District 159 will determine the fate of two issues -- a $95,000 bond issue for an addition to Willowcrest

School and a 21-cent increase in the educational fund tax rate.

The board is seeking the bond issue in order to prepare for the increasing enrollment and the hike in the tax rate to meet increasing operating costs.

The present educational fund tax rate is 86 cents per $100 equalized assessed valuation. The proposed increase would lift the rate to $1.07.

According to Supt. James Ennis the current enrollment is approximately 600. The number of pupils enrolled in the district has been increasing at an average of eight per cent a year for the past several years, Supt. Ennis said. If the increase maintains that pace until 1975, he said, the Mokena district facilities will have to be double their present capacity.

It is possible, he added that should the community's growth accelerate suddenly the demand on the district would also accelerate.

There will be one polling place for the Sept. 10 elections, the Carpenter Street School. The polling place will open at 12 noon and remain open until 7 p.m.

Lincoln-Way Frosh Will Report Sept. 1

The first full day of school for classes at Lincoln-Way High will be Sept. 6.

Freshmen are to report at 8:05 the morning of Sept. 1 and will be dismissed at 11:44.

All students will report the day following, Sept. 2 at 8:05. They will be dismissed at 11:18.

Regular hours will be observed Sept. 6, from 8:05 a.m. to 3:39 p.m.

Fees are to be paid, either on Friday, Sept. 2, or Tuesday, Sept. 6. The total amount is $16 -- $11.50 for instructional material and $4.50 to cover locker, towels, school paper, etc. Additional fees will be required for the purchase of gym uniforms. Laboratory fees will be charged in the shops for miscellaneous supplies used.

A change in the school law makes it mandatory for all incoming high school students to have physical and dental examinations completed prior to the first day of school. Unless this examination report is on file in the school office a student will not be admitted to classes. When examinations are completed the form should be mailed to Jonas Lashmet, Lincoln-Way. If for religious or financial reasons one cannot meet this obligation he is asked to call Mr. Lashmet at 485-2511.

Supt. A. Hunter Chapman said that an enrollment of 1,230 is expected.

The school year begins earlier for faculty members. Workshop programs are scheduled for Aug. 30 and 31 and also for portions of Sept. 1 and 2. Bus route information will be given out at the school.

St. Procopius Faces Year of Challenge

In opening its doors to welcome the student body to the 79th academic year, St. Procopius College in nearby Lisle, will also present a year of challenge to administrators, faculty, and student body alike.

The newest building project, now in the planning stage, is a science hall to provide new facilities for the departments of biology, chemistry, physics, and mathematics. The building will also provide space for the atomic energy research projects being carried out by the college research staff.

In addition, a faculty academic committee will conclude a two-year study on the curriculum, trying to provide a complete core program for every college student, regardless of major.

St. Procopius College is a four-year liberal arts and sciences college for men conducted by the Benedictine Fathers of St. Procopius Abbey.

The college offers 13 major areas for the bachelor's degree: biology, chemistry, economics, French, German, sociology, philosophy, mathematics, English, Latin and Greek, music education, physics, and political science.

In addition to the degree programs, pre-professional education is available in theology, engineering, law, dentistry, and medicine. Professional training is available for teaching, and the teacher-education program is certified by the State of Illinois.

During the past five years enrollment has risen from 506 to 815 students. At the present time, 85 per cent of all students come from within a 30-mile radius of the college.

To meet the challenge of the growing opportunity for service to the local communities, St. Procopius has already initiated several programs which provide educational and cultural opportunities for the adult population.

Projects as the evening and summer credit courses, the community symphony orchestra, the college and community theater, and the astronomy club already enjoy popularity.

Though basically a college for men, these auxiliary programs are open to men and women.

In the spirit of the Second Vatican Council, especially the Constitution on the Church and the Constitution on Education, St. Procopius College offers the student the opportunity, "to pursue individual educational disciplines with the liberty necessary for scientific inquiry that a deeper understanding of these fields will be secured."

The physics, chemistry, and biology departments have gained outstanding prominence in the midwest, as now 80 per cent of the science students enter doctoral programs after graduation.

The now famous Jurica Biology Charts, published by the A. J. Nystrom company, were originally conceived and produced in black and white and in color by Father Hilary S. Jurica, O. S. B., Ph. D., the chairman of the division of sciences. His botanical and zoological specimens are recognized as being among the finest in the nation.

The physical sciences department, which holds a license to handle radioactive materials, has been named as a calibration center for instruments used in Civil Defense.

Recent developments in the physics department include an electrometer which is being used to measure background radiations due to terrestrial and extra-terrestrial radiations and fall-out from nuclear bombs.

Also developed on the Lisle campus was a vibrating quartz electrometer which can detect minute quantities of electricity.

The electrometer can measure one thousandth of a millionth of a millionth of the electrical current in an ordinary 100-watt light bulb. This instrument is now available commercially.

The chemistry department has been participating in glass research projects sponsored by the Continental Can Company.

This project, headed by Dr. James J. Hazdra of Joliet is providing several chemistry majors with first hand experience in modern research methods.

The summer credit program, begun several years ago, now offers 51 courses creating a very comprehensive supplementary program.

In conjunction with these courses, a "junior college" program has been inaugurated which enables high school students to begin their college work immediately after graduation and to continue courses in subsequent summers.

The program also provides part-time students with the opportunity to complete two years of college work in a combined evening and summer school program.

St. Procopius College is accredited by the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, the Illinois Department of Public Instruction, and the State Teacher Certification Board.

The college is also a member of the American Council on Education, the National Catholic Educational Association, the National Educational Association, the Association of American Colleges, and the National Commission on Accrediting.

Geo. Williams: A Brief Tour

Earlier this summer George Williams College held formal opening ceremonies at its new Downers Grove Campus, and already more than 250 students have taken summer courses at the college.

Formerly located in Hyde Park, George Williams is nationally prominent for educating young men and women to direct youth and community serving organizations. Last year 616 students from 32 states and 11 foreign countries enrolled at the 76 year-old liberal arts institution.

With 14 new buildings on a 200 acre campus, the college is experiencing a rapid development. After summer students complete their courses, 750 students are expected to enroll for the Fall Quarter, and a student body of 1200 is anticipated by 1970.

George Williams students work toward bachelor's degrees in five major areas of study: the social sciences, natural sciences, humanities, group work, and health and physical education. The college grants masters degrees in Social Work, Group Work, Health Education, Physical Education, Recreation, and Camping and Out-door Education.

Expect 300 Frosh At Elmhurst Col. Orientation Week

Elmhurst college will be the destination of some 300 freshmen Saturday, September 12, when they will arrive on the campus for Freshman Week, a five-day orientation to college life before classes start.

On hand to greet them will be faculty members, administrators, and a committee of 28 upperclassmen, all ready to help the newcomers with scheduling classes, getting settled in their rooms, touring the campus, learning the traditions of the school, and meeting other students.

During the five-day period, which will be devoted exclusively to the freshmen, they will take placement test, meet with faculty members and student leaders, attend discussion meetings, and participate in recreational and social activities.

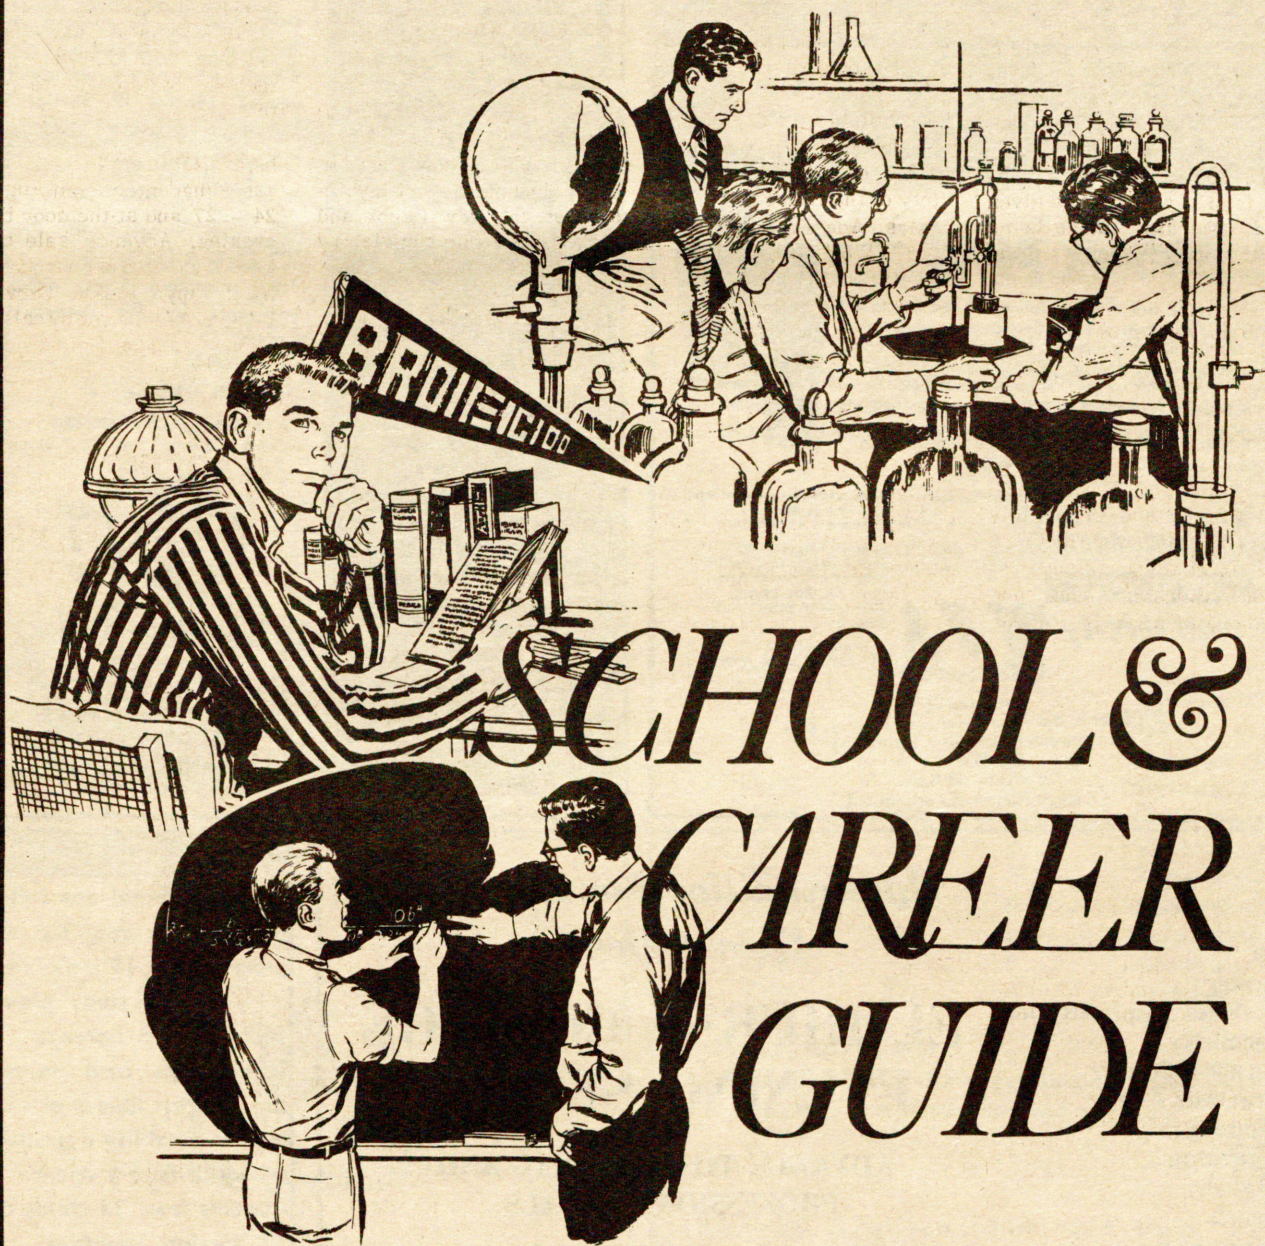

An important part of the program, aimed at introducing the freshmen to college-level ideas, will be the discussion and study of a book, Henderson's "The Rain King," and a special screening of "A Taste of Honey" followed by discussions.

The lighter side of college life has not been forgotten. Highlights will be a trip to Ravinia for the performance of "Misalliance," a picnic, and of course the traditional frosh - soph tug of war.

Registration for the entire student body is scheduled for Thursday, September 15. An all-school convocation will be held Friday morning at 9 a.m., with classes convening at 10.

The total enrollment is expected to be about 1300 in the day session, and another 1300 in the evening session.

New IWU Biology Program Successful, Says Dr. Wantland

A new biological curriculum which treats animal and plant life together has been very successful during its first year at Illinois Wesleyan University, according to Dr. Wayne W. Wantland, chairman of the division of natural sciences at IWU.

The new curriculum is based on the CUEBS Study (Commission on Undergraduate Education in the Biological Sciences) subsidized by the National Science Foundation. This study proposed rather marked changes in biology curricula.

Wesleyan was the first smaller university in Illinois to adopt the new program. Other universities using the new curriculum include Harvard, Yale, Connecticut Wesleyan, John Hopkins, University of Chicago, Northwestern, Purdue and Stanford.

"Our program is based on the assumption that there ought to be a good strong biological core curriculum applicable to everyone majoring in biology," Dr. Wantland related.

"The CUEBS curriculum is a trend away from traditional programs offering many courses such as entomology, ecology and embryology. There are four basic one-year courses, one for each year at the university," he said.

Courses being offered in the Wesleyan program include General Biology, Developmental Mechanics and Genetics. Ultrastructural and Cellular Biology, Biophysics and Biometrics, Biological Interrelations, Senior Review, Biology Seminar and independent study.

"The CUEBS program has cut down the number of courses we teach. There are only nine courses in the 1966-67 catalogue compared to 16 in the 1964 catalogue," he added.

"The new curriculum emphasizes study on the basic building blocks in biology and progresses from the tiny to larger populations. The thread of the whole plan is to treat the world of living organisms (plants and animals) together," Dr. Wantland continued.

According to Dr. Wantland, the first year of the CUEBS curriculum at Wesleyan has included use of closed circuit television and team teaching methods.

"The new program with team teaching allows more blocks of time for any one staff member to devote to research. A specialist may spend several weeks lecturing on one topic and then spend several weeks on research," according to Dr. Wantland.

OF THE 1,300 students who will register at Elmhurst College this fall, about 300 will be freshmen.

Wesleyan Students to Use 18-Inch Reflector Telescope

Beginning this fall Illinois Wesleyan University physics students will be using an 18-inch Newtonian reflector-type telescope built by several members of the IWU Physics Department.

According to Ray Wilson, assistant professor of physics, the telescope is probably the second largest now in use at an Illinois university.

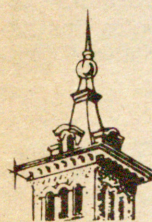

"Northwestern has an 18-1/4 inch refractor which is probably the largest, and several universities are building larger ones," Mr. Wilson said.

Wilson and IWU student Barry Beaman of Rockford began the project about two years ago, when they decided to replace a six-inch refractor telescope then in use at IWU's Behr Observatory. In June, 1965, the project gained more momentum after Dr. Gary Kessler, associate professor of physics, joined the staff.

The most important item for the Wesleyan telescope is an 18-inch mirror which was originally used in a telescope given to IWU in 1895. In 1895 the Wesleyan instrument was the eighth largest in the country.

Other material for the telescope was obtained new.

George Williams Schedules Adult Classes

One of the ways in which George Williams College plans to serve its suburban neighbors was revealed this week when Dr. Virgil Henry, Director of Special Educational Programs, announced tentative plans for a fall schedule of adult education courses.

"Based on the interest expressed in a questionnaire

Elect Area Residents To Procopius Council

The Rev. Roman S. Gallardi, O.S.B., president of St. Procopius College, Lisle, recently announced that several area residents have joined the president's advisory council.

J. Glenn Shehee is a lawyer in the firm of Shehee & Berent, Wheaton.

Edward C. Pocus is a real estate developer and resides in Wheaton, at 1019 S. Crest, with his wife and three children. He completed a program in commerce at De Paul University.

Douglas F. Comstock practices law in Downers Grove and resides at 390 Hillside Ave., Glen Ellyn, with his wife, Mary, and three children. Comstock is a former Assistant State's Attorney in charge of Criminal Division; is a member of the DuPage County and Illinois Bar Associations; Chicago Tax Club; former president of the Serra Club of DuPage County. He received a bachelor of science degree in commerce from Loyola University and his law degree from DePaul University.

William J. Roche, a graduate of the Illinois Institute of Technology, is the founder and president of Acme Screw Company, Wheaton.

Wallace Norman Martei, 847 Ellynwood Drive, Glen Ellyn, is a real estate representative for Sinclair Refining Company.

Stephen Lawroski is an associate laboratory director at Argonne National Laboratory. He received his bachelor of science, master of science, and doctor of philosophy degrees from Pennsylvania State University. A member of the American Chemical Society, he also holds memberships in the American Institute of Chemical Engineers, General Advisory Committee of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, and is a consultant to the U. S. Army on Chemistry and Biology. Lawroski resides at 144 S. Sleight St., Naperville, with his wife, Helen, and two children.

that we sent to many suburban residents earlier this summer," Dr. Henry said, "we hope to initiate several exciting opportunities in both the non-credit and credit course areas of adult education. Perhaps the biggest innovation we would like to implement this fall is a 'Morning College for Women,'" Dr. Henry stated.

If enough interest develops, George Williams would conduct several non-credit courses strictly for women for eight weeks beginning in October. The classes would meet one day a week from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and the College is prepared to organize a project to care for children under school age from 9 a.m. to noon on class days.

Courses under consideration for the Morning College for Women include Effective Leadership in Volunteer Agencies, Existentialism in Literature and Psychology, and Search for Authenticity (Psychological Perspectives). According to Dr. Henry, these courses are designed for women who wish to augment what they have learned while in college, and for women who are not college graduates, but who would enjoy the challenge of learning in new areas of work.

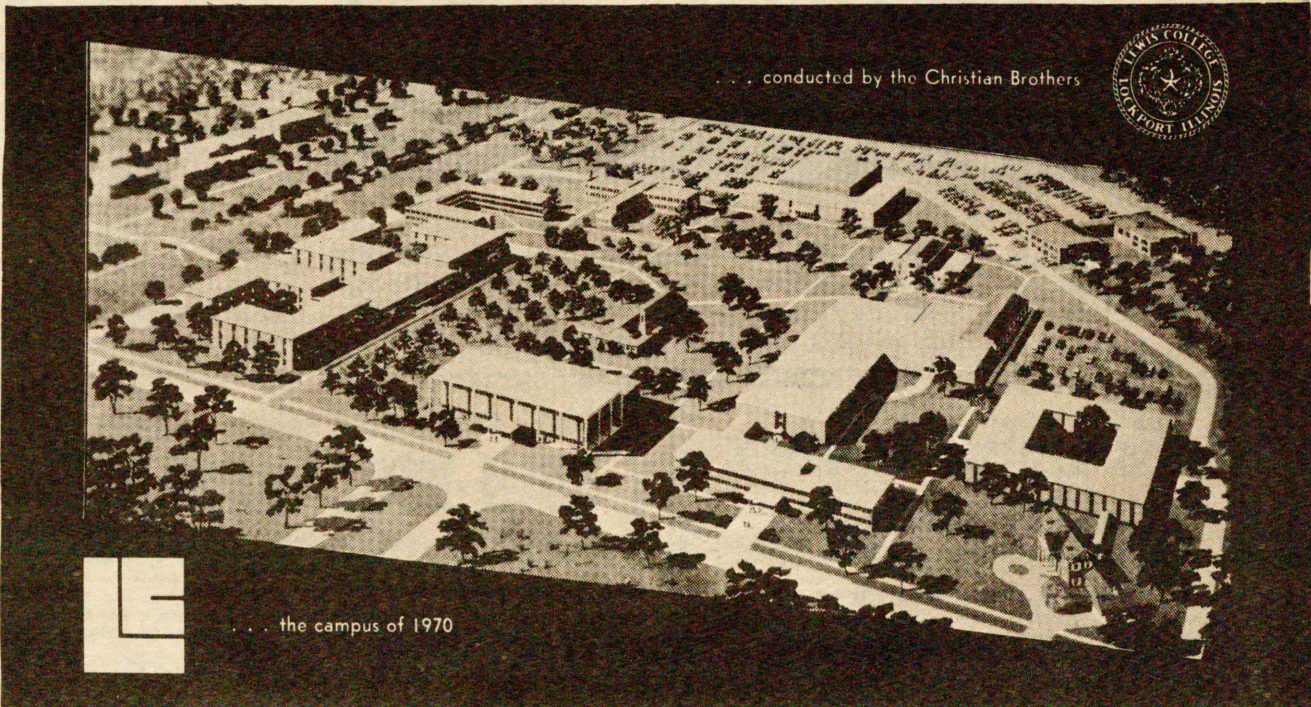

Non-credit evening courses for both men and women are also being considered for the Fall Quarter at George Williams. Adult Evening Courses would serve a variety of interests, as these suggested course titles indicate: Long-range Community Planning in Suburban Areas, Speed Reading, Southeast Asia Today, "God Is Dead" (Secular Religion), and International Comparative Education.

Tuition for the non-credit evening courses would be considerably less than the regular college tuition. For each course consisting of sixteen clock hours in class sessions, tuition per person would be $24; and if a husband and wife enrolled, the combined tuition would be $36.

Regular college-credit courses in both day and evening sessions will be open to adults also. These courses will be at both the graduate and undergraduate levels. Although it is expected that more adults will enroll for credit courses in the evening, they will be welcome in day courses also.

"Many adults have told us that they would enjoy participating in a class with regular college students, and we see this as a healthy stimulus on all sides," Dr. Henry indicated. He added that "we are trying to simplify our registration and enrollment procedures for adults, so that it will be as convenient as possible for them to sign up for any course they might wish to take."

North Central Emphasizes Excellence

Within the framework of a liberal arts education in the setting of a small college campus, North Central College in Naperville has maintained a long tradition of academic excellence. Founded in 1861, the co-educational, privately endowed school is fully accredited by the North Central Association. The college maintains its program of liberal arts education throughout its normal day program as well as through its evening school programs and its summer school operation.

Majors leading to a bachelor of arts degree are offered in 22 departments at North Central. Bachelor of music and bachelor of music education degrees are also available.

Uniqueness in program opportunities is one of the major phases of the North Central concern. This is stressed throughout the evening, summer and regular school sessions.

Opportunities are available for special directed study or travel in many areas. One of the more unique programs involves the Mid Winter Study and Research Term during the month of January when selected students are given an opportunity to take part in this program in a non-graded situation.

In addition to its academic program the college provides an extensive program of athletics and a wide variety of other extra-curricular activities including music and drama. The Special Events Series brings outstanding entertainers and cultural programs to the campus. The Student Activities program also transports students to Chicago to attend performances and events of many kinds as a regular part of their education.

North Central selects its students on the basis of intellectual ability, academic achievement and desirable personal qualities. They must also submit satisfactory scores on the Scholastic Aptitude Test for the College Entrance Examination Board.

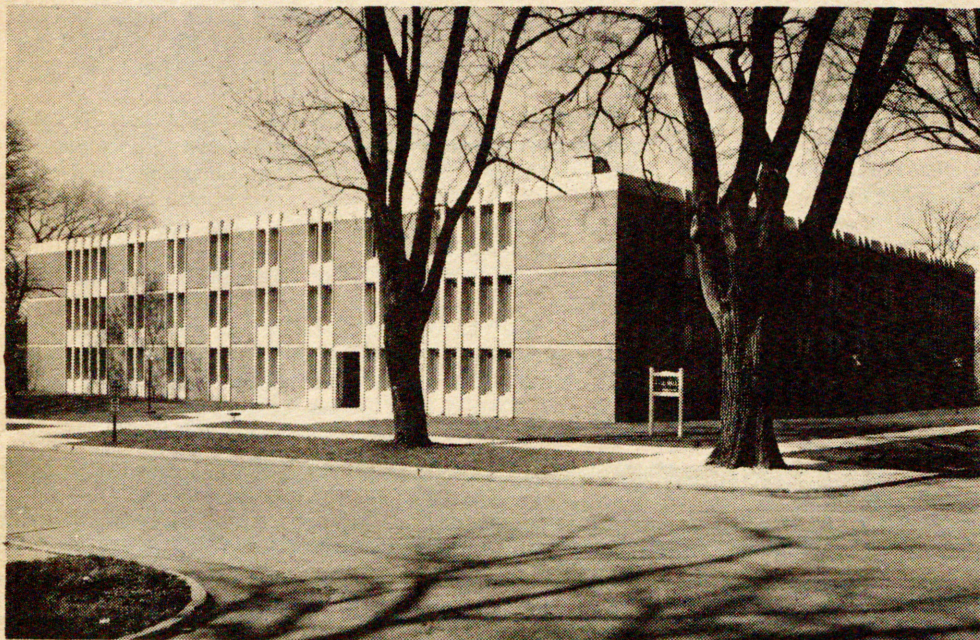

Registration to qualified students is still open for the fall program. Registration for classes in the Evening School will be held Wednesday, September 7, from 7-9:30 p.m. in the College Union. Catalogs and information for both evening and regular programs are available from the Office of Admissions at the college.

A total of 35 courses in 13 departments will be offered in the evening program during the fall semester.

Tuition, fees, room and board total $2,150 for the academic year beginning in September. Total for non-resident students is $1,350.

Evening School tuition is charged on the basis of $30 per credit hour or $25 for non-credit auditing of a course. There is also a $2 registration fee.

EVIDENCE OF efforts by North Central College to provide students with modern facilities is the Rall Residence Hall, completed in the fall of 1965. The new hall houses 142 women. It is of brick, steel and glass construction and is completely air conditioned.

Here's Chance To Be Own Little Old Wine Maker

The grape harvest is at hand! Prospective wine makers are reminded that as heads of families, they may produce up to 200 gallons of wine tax-free, for the use of their immediate families only if they comply with the Federal Statute requiring prior registration of intent to produce wine with the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax Division of the Internal Revenue Service.

Prospective family - use wine makers in the State of Illinois can comply with the registration requirement by filling out forms obtainable from the Office of the Supervisor in Charge, Alcohol & Tobacco Tax, Room 1784, 35 East Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois, 60601. The filled-out forms must be submitted in duplicate to the above office at least five days before the production of wine is begun. Telephone inquiries may be made by calling 222-7483.

If the applicant is qualified, one copy of the form will be returned as authorization to produce not more than two hundred gallons of wine during the twelve-month period from July 1 through June 30. A new registration form must be filed for each year in which it is desired to produce such wine.

The exemption given under Federal Law for the production of tax-free wine is solely for family use and does not apply to an unmarried person, unless he qualifies as head of a family.

New Training Course For Scout Leaders

Boy Scout leaders in Will County will have the opportunity to participate in a completely new training program released recently by the National Council, Boy Scouts of America, according to Thunderbird District (Will County) Leadership Training Chairman Don Harbers.

Under the new plan, a trainee will follow much the same procedure and do many of the same things an eleven year old boy does as or to a married man living apart from his family, or to the production of wine by corporations or partnerships for commercial purposes.

Each year a number of persons who have made wine for family use and who did not register their intention are taxed at the regular rate for such wine. In addition they have been liable for criminal prosecution.

he becomes a Boy Scout. He will become a member of one of the seven patrols of Training Troop 1. He will pay a small registration fee (to cover cost of a troop neckerchief and overnight camp food) and weekly meeting dues (to cover cost of a "cracker barrel" snack at the end of each of the seven meetings).

The first meeting will be on Wednesday, Sept. 28, 1966, followed by another on Oct. 5, 1966.

Will County Fair To Open August 25

Keen competition for blue ribbons, a wide variety of exhibits, a contest rodeo, pony races and show, a tractor pulling contest, Midget Auto races, Blue Ribbon livestock parade, a Baby Show and a midway full of rides and concessions -- put them all together and you have a county fair. This particular one is the 63rd annual Will County Fair at Peotone August 25-28.

Fair Secretary William H. Meyer has announced that premiums to be paid to exhibitors this year total $37,291, about $300 over last year's figure. His office at the fairgrounds opened Wednesday and will remain open through Saturday, August 20, until 9 p.m. for the purpose of taking entries. All entries positively close at 9 p.m. August 20, with the exception of the tractor pulling contest and the baby show, which close one hour before show time.

Fair directors, according to President Lyle Carstens, are placing special emphasis on making the best presentation of exhibits that is possible. After all the prime interest is in the judging of livestock, poultry, grains, vegetables, flowers, collections, textiles and fine arts, as it has been during the fair's 63-year history.

The tractor pulling contest will open the grandstand performances at 12:30 p.m. opening day of the four-day fair. Four classes are scheduled for the afternoon performance and another four classes will be presented in the evening show starting at 7 p.m. Total prize money to be offered is $1,750.

For better performance, the pulling slab has been improved. It has been lengthened 100 feet making it 200 feet long and steel starting plates have been installed. Two classes have been added for Garden tractors. A Back-Up Contest is scheduled for the afternoon for drivers age 10 to 19 years. This is a driving skill contest and will be limited to 20 drivers. The tractor is furnished. The other garden tractor class is the Narrow Gate Contest, scheduled for the evening performance. Entries will close at 11 a.m. the day of the show, August 25.

Pony races and pony hitches will highlight the afternoon's entertainment on Friday, August 26. The show will get underway at 1:30. The United Midget Auto Races will present a thrilling two-hour show in the evening at 7:00.

A contest rodeo under the supervision of the Rodeo Cowboys Association will be the feature attraction Saturday and Sunday, August 27-28. There will be four performances or saddle bronc riding, Brahma bull riding, calf roping, steer wrestling and bareback bronc riding Saturday and Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m. and each evening at 7:30 p.m.

Included on Sunday's program will be the ever popular Baby Show at 2:30 p.m. and the Blue Ribbon Livestock parade at 7 p.m. Trophy presentations will also be made at this time. Adding to the attractions are the special-interest exhibits which fill the grounds' permanent buildings and fair-time tents.

Saturday, August 27, has been designated as Democratic Day by the fair association with the Republicans having their day on Sunday.

The midway will be alive with the usual array of rides, games and concessions, plus refreshment stands and food stand featuring a modern screened-in restaurant. Admission to the grounds is $1 for adults, with children accompanied by adults admitted free. Thursday night grandstand admission will be 50 cents, other nights, 75 cents. There will be no admission charge to the grandstand on Thursday and Friday afternoons.

Radamacher Thrills Fans With Win In Midget Races

Paul (Young A.J.) Radamacher of Joliet, not only won the first feature race of career last Saturday night at Joliet Memorial Stadium but, he had the fans standing as he rode side by side for lap after lap with Gene Varing, who was holding down the third place spot. After passing Varing, he turned in the same performance with Newt White in the second place position. Finally working his way behind the lead car, driven by John Deering, Radamacher swung to the outside and another "side by side duel" took place before he took the lead to finish ahead of the field for his big win. Newt White finished second, Deering third, John Lode fourth and Bill Kollman fifth.

Roger West, who had won three straight features at the Stadium in the Bob Corson Chevy 11 out of Harvey, Ill. turned in the fast-qualifying lap for the evening. Rogers and Bill Krueger tangled on the 26th lap of the 30 lap event and both cars spun out.

Radamacher and West have been moving up very fast in points by the brilliant performance turned in by both drivers the past few weeks. Joliet's John "Pancho" Padilla held onto the driver and car owner points for the third week. Running second is Phil Palombo, third, Gene Varing, fourth, Bobby Richards, fifth, George Kladis, sixth, Bill Kollman, seventh, Hank Pens, eighth, West, ninth, Radamacher, 10th Bob Hauck.

HINTS FOR HOMEOWNERS

BY: RICHARD DELANO
ASSISTANT COOK COUNTY
FARM ADVISER IN ORNA-
MENTAL HORTICULTURE
AND FLORICULTURE

The whole nation is going to pots, Redwood, white pine, concrete, clay and even paper pots are appearing on patios, steps, balconies, porches and street corners.

People are discovering that the program for natural beauty has application in some of the smallest and most unlikely areas. There is no substitute for the natural beauty of a living plant.

Even the largest pots give the advantage of being completely mobile. Earth filled eighteen inch containers or pots weighting 200 pounds or more can be moved if the right techniques are used. One simple approach is to skid the container along on a piece of burlap. On rough surfaces an old fashioned scoop shovel will do the job.

There's no limit to the type of plant that can be grown in tubs or large pots. Evergreens, especially upright junipers and yews are regularly used. However, there's no reason that you should limit yourself to these popular few varieties. All kinds of hardy non-evergreen shrubs and trees can be used in containers. Common privet takes on a special distinction when planted in a container. Fan-tail willow would be another good subject as would dwarf fruit trees.

Since these plants are portable, make the most of it. Try semi-tender plants such as Japanese maple, members of the citrus family or even Christmas holly. These tender plants can be moved to the garage or basements. Don't be too protective though. Although citrus plants tolerate frost poorly, dwarf fruit trees demand some frost if they are to break dormancy.

Essentially there's no trick to maintaining container grown shrubs. Just consider them as super sized house plants. Take a little extra care for drainage and soil type. Good drainage will be obtained by an inch layer of gravel at the bottom. For best results don't use field garden soil in your container. Roots are quite restricted thus they need every advantage that a good soil can give them. A mixture of one third sand, peat, and loam has good drainage and moisture building ability.

After planting keep the container grown shrub well watered and fertilized. The earth ball in the container heats quicker than ground soil thus it loses water quite rapidly. An eighteen inch tub may need two or three gallons of water every second day. Just as with house plants, water must be applied until water drains from the bottom. This prevents salt build up.

There are several complete fertilizers on the market. All are suitable for container grown plants if the directions on the label are followed. A complete fertilizer is one that contains nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium. Minor elements in a fertilizer are good selling points. Usually, however, their value is unappreciated. Plants that can't read a label.

VOTERS KNOW—"I have long contended," said Rep. Edward Derwinski, (R-Ill.), "that the average American citizen at the grass-roots level exhibits far more common sense than government bureaucrats here in Washington who strive so zealously to manipulate our nation's economy."

WAGE AND PRICE CONTROLS—"Congress should not delegate to the executive branch," said Rep. Richard Poff (R-Va.) "so called 'stand-by authority' to impose wage and price controls. If and when the exigencies of national security dictate, Congress can promptly enact legislation for that purpose. But the Congress and not the President should decide if and when that time comes."
